

THREE MORE OF OUTER ANTWERP FORTS FALL BEFORE GERMAN FIRE

tempt of the allies to flank the right wing of the German army has been checked and the Germans, taking the offensive, have succeeded in making advances at several points.

The messages from Berlin also state that the Germans are progressing in the region of the forest of Argonne. The latest statement from Paris merely states that at this point, as well as on the heights of the Meuse, the French have repulsed night and day attacks.

On the rest of the long battle line the positions of the rival armies are unchanged.

"Both wings of the German army are in victorious advance and occupy positions for a decisive battle. A comprehensive plan of attacking the enemy by overwhelming pressure is being executed."

GERMANS GET NEW TROOPS.
The hardest fighting along the line of the German right to the north of the River Oise. Gen. Von Kluck, who is in command of the invaders in this section, has been reinforced by troops from the German center and has made many efforts to break through the positions held by the allies.

The enemy holds the curve running from Peronne to Chaulnes and thence to Lagny, with the salient at the latter town, which has been twice reported as having surrendered. It was obviously endangered but is now strongly held. The severity of the fighting is shown by the number of wounded brought from the front in this region.

The great struggle began on Sept. 25. The Paris statement tonight said the struggle was continuing with unabated fury.

Both in London and in Paris there is the greatest confidence, although some surprise is displayed at the success of the Germans in preventing the flanking movement. There is a feeling that the Germans cannot extend their line much further north without weakening it at some point.

ALLIES HALT IN WOEVER.
The progress of the allies in the region of Soissons and Woever, reported Saturday night, either has satisfied them for the moment or they have been checked by the Germans.

Progress by either side anywhere must be slow, for after every advance, no matter how slight, the troops making it must intrench themselves for protection against the shells from the enemy's guns, posted in strong positions from one end of the line to the other.

SHELLS OF SOISSONS CHARGES.
A dispatch received from a special writer at the front describes the capture of the German trenches at Soissons several days ago. The honor of carrying the trenches was largely won by the British troops, particularly two famous Highland regiments.

For some days the allies had been advancing until the distance separating the combatants in the trenches was only about 500 feet. Over this distance a continuous rifle fire was kept up day and night. This was punctuated by infantry rushes on both sides.

The men wounded in these actions were compelled to remain unattended where they fell for over two days. The men were so close to each other that during lulls in the firing German and English soldiers looked at each other. It was only a question of time when one side would be hurled back by a terrific bayonet charge, and the allies won.

SAVE FRENCH HOLD ATTACK.
[By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A correspondent in Belfort, writing under the date of Oct. 5, says:

"I spent today in Alsace, where the French are in fighting after forty-four years of strife. For the French are in Alsace. There is nothing in front of them and if they wish they can walk right through to the Rhine."

"The Germans try to make the world believe that they hold Alsace, but I have seen the French in thousands in Alsace—well established, too—so well that the enemy has not dared to attack them for weeks."

"I made a trip through Oberdanbach, Dusseldorf, Remagen, and Montzen, passing the frontier at Petit Croix. On the way back to Belfort, German patrols still occasionally are to be met with, but these generally retire when the French go out to look for them."

BODY OF UNKNOWN WOMAN FOUND IN THE MISSISSIPPI.

St. Louis Police Mystified by Discovery of Remains Weighed Down with Twenty-five Pounds.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 5.—The body of a seemingly refined woman about 35 years old with a twenty-five pound weight tied to her waist was found in the Mississippi river just south of St. Louis tonight. The cause of St. Louis county, who took charge of the body, declared it had not been in the water more than three days.

The body had neither mark of identification nor of violence. One hand still clutched a watch, which contained only a pair of long white silk gloves.

The police here are at a loss as to whether the woman committed suicide or was murdered.

BIG GERMAN GUNS RAZE THREE MORE ANTWERP FORTS

Army Men Say Lierre, Waulhem and Koningshoeven Have Fallen.

BELGIANS ENTER DENIAL

BERLIN, by Wireless to Saville, Oct. 5.—An official report from the German army headquarters says that in the siege of Antwerp the forts of Lierre, Waulhem, and Koningshoeven, and the intermediate redoubts, with thirty guns, have been taken.

"Thus a breach has been made in the outer circle of forts," the report adds, "making an attack on the inner circle of forts and the town itself possible."

Three forts, Wavre, St. Catherine, and Dorpweil, fell yesterday, army headquarters reported. The same report said Fort Wavre was invested.

No Change in Situation.
ANTWERP, via London, Oct. 5.—According to official announcement made here today, the situation of the fortified positions around Antwerp remains without change.

German Remains Wounded.
[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
LONDON, Oct. 5.—A dispatch from the Daily News correspondent at Antwerp, dated by the censor, says that all the German wounded are said to have been removed from the Belgian capital. The fire around the city has been considered on the ground of observation. Houses in the suburbs and the Hotel de l'Esperance and the Gare du Midi are reported to have been given over to the flames.

The Antwerp correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, telegraphing regarding the fighting around Antwerp, under date of Saturday, says:

"The Germans continue their desperate efforts to capture Antwerp. They are in a desperate hurry to accomplish it, pushing forward unceasingly with their artillery at Fort Wavre, Wavre and St. Catherine, and flinging their infantry forward in frantic efforts to break through."

"Their losses have been enormous and the numbers killed are estimated as high as 5,000 during the present movement."

The Belgians adopted a clever ruse at Waulhem. After the bombardment had lasted several hours the fort ceased to reply, whereupon the Germans advanced in front of action, ordered the infantry to advance in close formation. The Belgian gunners waited until they could see the whites of their eyes and then opened a murderous fire."

Outer Forts Suffer Little.

"The German big guns are not being worked by regular soldiers, but by men in civilian clothing, who wear only an armlet to indicate their military occupation. Undoubtedly these men are employed at the Krupp factory, hastily summoned to replace the losses among the regular gunlayers."

"The heaviest German guns are located north of Wavre, where foundations of reinforced concrete have been prepared."

"The German shells have practically wiped out most of the little villages and hamlets in the outer circles of the Antwerp defenses. The Germans still hold Malines, although at a heavy cost at the Malines, although at a constant bombardment from the Antwerp forts."

CLARENCE WHITE SOUGHT AS BARRY MURDER SUSPECT.

Warrants for the arrest of Clarence White, a teaming contractor of 1116 Washington boulevard, and of Edward Crowley, an employe, will be sworn out by the police today, it is said, in connection with the murder of James Barry, whose body was found wrapped in gunny sacks.

The murder, the police believe, was caused by a feud between gunny-sack dealers from St. Louis and those said to have been employed by White. A wagon belonging to the contractor was found with boards stained by blood. A mattress similarly stained is said to have been taken from White's home soon after White and Crowley disappeared.

Police at St. Louis, which was Barry's home, say the slain man had been arrested a number of times for robbery. He was known as a gunman, they say.

HAVE 240,000 PRISONERS.
German Claim to Have Captured That Many Russians, Belgians, French, and British.

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The Germans were said to have 240,000 prisoners of war, about 7,000 British, 40,000 Belgians, 20,000 Russians, and the rest French. So far the prisoners have had to do little manual labor, but it is contemplated to put them at work draining swamps and reclaiming land.

JAPS REPULSE GERMAN ATTACK

TRY TO APPEASE CHINA.

TOKIO, Oct. 5.—It is officially announced that German infantry at Tsing-Tau delivered a surprise night attack against the Japanese. They were repulsed. The Germans had forty-eight killed and the Japanese forty killed and eight wounded.

The cannonading on land and sea in the vicinity of Tsing-Tau continues. Four Japanese shells hit the German gunboat Hilla, which retired to the inner harbor after the exchange of shots.

Japs Advance in China.
PEKING, Oct. 5.—The Japanese cavalry, the advance guard of the troops occupying the German railway connecting the German leased possession of Kiau-Chau, with Tai-Nan in the west of Shantung, has reached Tsing-Tau, thirty-five miles west of Wei-Hai.

The Japanese foreign office has promised the Chinese foreign office that Japan would occupy the railway with the fewest troops possible, who would remain close to the line, and that civilian railroad men would be brought from Japan to replace the soldiers as soon as possible. Further, all the Chinese railroad employes would be continued in the service.

The Chinese government, however, will continue its diplomatic efforts to cause the Japanese to withdraw to the vicinity of Kiau-Chau. The Germans threaten to dynamite all the bridges and burn all the stations on the line if the Japanese continue their march westward.

ALBANIANS ELECT A TURK?
Dorcas Dispatch Says Senate Has Named Esad Pasha to Head Provisional Government.

PARIS, Oct. 5. A dispatch from Dorcas, dated Oct. 4, says that the senate has named Esad Pasha, president of the provisional government of Albania, his 10,000 Albanian troops occupy strategic positions in the city.

Esad Pasha formerly was Albanian minister of war, and was also commander-in-chief of the Turkish forces at Scutari in the Balkan war. He was opposed to the rule of Prince William of Wied, who was appointed to the Albanian throne by the powers.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE FIGHTS TRANSACTIONS TAX.

Secretary Merrill Tells Senators Shively and Stone Proposed Levy Amounts to Class Legislation.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—C. F. Merrill, secretary of the Chicago board of trade, today had conference with Senator Shively of Indiana and Senator Stone of Missouri to protest against the proposed tax on transactions on the grain exchanges of the country.

Mr. Merrill declared that the proposed tax was class legislation and was discriminatory in its effect, because it applied only to the exchange transactions, leaving other persons at places where there are no exchanges free of tax while engaged in the same business.

Another objection to the proposed tax cited by Mr. Merrill was that it would be collected several times upon the same grain.

The war revenue bill, will be completed tomorrow at a Democratic caucus which will convene at noon, instead of the regular meeting of the senate.

At the meeting of the Democratic members of the finance committee today the insurance tax was disposed of and also the administrative features. The committee decided that life insurance and casualty insurance policies should not be taxed and struck out the house provisions to that effect, but retained the house proposed tax on fire and marine insurance policies. The administrative features were not materially changed from the form in which the house left them.

U. S. OFFICIAL ORDERED TO PICK POSTOFFICE SITE.
Starts Work on Location of West Side Building—Also Considers Substation Projects.

A. S. Macgregor, postoffice site inspector of the treasury department, yesterday received orders from Washington to begin work on the selection of a site for the new proposed 15,000,000 postoffice on the west side, as announced in The Tribune.

He spent the day investigating proposed sites for a new building to be erected in the event the postoffice department decides to consolidate the Jackson park and Englewood branch postoffices. A proposition to this effect is under consideration.

Mr. Macgregor said he will complete the work before taking up the question of a site for the new main postoffice on the west side. He said it is the intention of the department to have the new substation on the south side located in Battery street. He will make a report on the matter to Washington week.

MONTENEGRINS AND SERBS BEATEN, AUSTRIA REPORTS.

Admits Activity of Enemies, However, Has Caused Beliefs to Be Sent to East Bosnia.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A correspondent of the Reuters Telegram company at Amsterdam transmits the following official report from Vienna, signed by Field Marshal Potiorek:

"The Serbian and Montenegrin forces invading East Bosnia have compelled us to dispatch mobile forces to this region, which is far from the arena of the principal division."

The first action started in East Bosnia already has come to a successful termination. Two Montenegrin brigades after two days of severe fighting, were completely defeated and routed. They now are in a hasty retreat across the border, and they must leave behind them a considerable quantity of supplies. These forces had previously looted Bosnia."

"In the action undertaken in the northern part of the country half a battalion of Austrian troops captured a full battalion of Serbians."

HELL'S DEATH BY STARVATION COMMON IN CITY

HOUSE OF SUICIDES

This declaration, uttered in the most matter of fact sort of way, came from an official of the United Charities yesterday as he glanced over a letter from a Chicago Good Fellow. The letter had inclosed a clipping showing the death of an old man on the street, found starving, only to die as a consequence arrived.

"This is not an unusual case these days," the speaker continued. "The United Charities has been called upon to give attention because of a poor man's death."

Starvation Causes Suicides.

"We have no figures which show the number of those who die as the victims of underfeeding, which makes them easy to die," he said, "but the true diagnosis, too, in not a few cases, is starvation."

He said that the United Charities has been called upon to give attention because of a poor man's death.

Goodfellow Department, Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Illinois.

Oct. 2nd, 1914.

Gentlemen:

I notice in the Tribune of this date under the heading "A Twelve Year Old Head of the House" and who is the mother of three boys—the oldest ten. Do you suppose this party would care to have the oldest boy sent to school here in Chicago, where he would be under my care so that he could get a fairly good education and earn a trade?

I am willing to undertake this obligation. Let me know all about the family—nationality, religion and such other information as would enable me to make plans. I am a fortunate man and your noble work struck a cord that could not help responding. I am sure that I can do something and have connections that will mean much to the boy.

Yours truly,

B. M. [Signature]

How to Become the Author of a Chapter in a Novel of Life.

HERE are some matters submitted for the consideration of Good Fellows. They are the unembellished matter of fact reports that careful investigators have made to the United Charities concerning the persons involved. It often has been said "there is a novel in every life." Here is a chance for Good Fellows to become authors of happy chapters. If you want to be a Good Fellow send your name and address to Good Fellow Headquarters, Tin Tavern.

LONE POLICEMAN ON EACH 3 MILES OF CITY AT NIGHT

FINDS EVASION OF RULES

Only 900 policemen travel night post in Chicago. There are approximately 3,000 miles of street in the city. The figure establishes a ratio of one policeman traveling beat for every three miles of street.

The meagerness of the protection afforded the households was brought out last night in a report to the city council at its first full meeting. The civil service commission presented the findings of Maj. James Miles, examiner in charge of the efficiency division, during an all summer inquiry into the operation of the reorganization ordinance.

Maj. Miles found that many of the abuses the ordinance was intended to correct were still in existence in September, when he closed his investigation. There still are "soft snaps" in large numbers, and the rule requiring that uniforms be worn by all members of the force except those specifically exempted is not in effect.

Distribution of Men.

Regulate Duty—Uniform.

Day posts 421
Night posts 200

Location of special "gambling squads" and at the former practice of having investigators from Second Deputy Supt. Parkhouse conduct raids. Maj. Miles contended that such activities interfered with the establishment of the respectability of the captains as district commanders.

Friction Between Squads.

It is believed that when the special squads are making raids and arrests, the regular force is inclined to get out of the way if not hampered by these squads by "tipping them off" to violators.

COLONEL SAYS WHITMAN LIES

Roosevelt Declares Republican Nominee Has Told Two Voting Stories.

CITES MEN PRESENT.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Col. Theodore Roosevelt denounced more tonight with his flying auto squadron, titled but happy, it had been "a bully day" for the Progressive cause and he had enjoyed every minute of it. The weather had been perfect. Marty and late, District Attorney Whitman, Republican gubernatorial nominee, was the colonel's target.

New Charge Made.

In his attack upon Mr. Whitman the colonel had just this one new thing to say:

"I knew Mr. Whitman. A year ago he came out to call on me and asked me in the presence of Judge Hoyt and Lucien Bonaparte to support him for mayor of New York. He then offered to give me in writing his pledge that he would or would not run for governor, just as I told him to. Judge Hoyt and Mr. Bonaparte were present."

"Mr. Whitman told me that he had been my most ardent supporter and had voted for me in 1912. He now says that he voted against me. I am utterly indifferent as to whether he told me the truth then or tells it now, but he would have told me the truth both times."

Truth Not Near Remark.

New York, Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Judge Hoyt failed to confirm Col. Roosevelt's charge about Mr. Whitman. He said he did not hear Mr. Whitman say any such thing.

ROOSEVELT MEETING PLANS CHANGED BY PROGRESSIVES.

Colonel Will Speak in Coliseum Instead of Auditorium Because of Big Demand for Seats.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt's Chicago meeting on Oct. 10 will be held in the Coliseum instead of the Auditorium theater. The change was made yesterday by the Progressive party leaders, who explained that the demand for seats already indicated that it will be one of the biggest political gatherings of recent years in Chicago.

Don't Buy Any Car on Its Pavement Performances

Almost any car rides well on city pavements: Test the car you buy for 20,000 miles of service.

For you want a car that is good for at least 20,000 miles; one that will run day in and day out, over all kinds of roads.

You can't learn the real in-built quality of a car in an hour's spin on the asphalt, but 20,000 miles of service show up all the defects and virtues. That is why we want you to give the Chalmers 1915 "Light Six" some unusual test.

We want to show you in an extraordinary ride that the Chalmers has the power, comfort, stamina, to carry you safely and surely for 20,000 miles—for 100,000 miles if you wish.

For many years the growing demand for fine pearls has forced the price up at the rate of ten to twenty per cent per year.

The present war and the destruction by storm of this year's pearl oyster beds suggest the wisdom of buying pearls now.

You'll find this store to be a good place to buy jewels and jewelry; we're doing everything we can to make you feel that it's the best place; you can always get satisfaction here—there's no time limit to our guarantee; your satisfaction will be just as important to us ten years from now as on the day you make your purchase here.

You can get genuine pearl necklaces here as low as thirty dollars; or for as much more as you want to pay.

IT ISN'T TRUE! SHERMAN REPLY TO ROOSEVELT

Senator Denies He Gained
His Seat by Aid of Sullivan Democrats.

TELLS "INSIDE" HISTORY

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Senator Sherman today five meetings in Franklin county today continued to reply to Col. Roosevelt. At the first meeting Senator Sherman charged Col. Roosevelt with deliberately uttering falsehoods in his recent speeches in behalf of Raymond Hobbs. "I was well informed man in Illinois before what Col. Roosevelt seeks to have believed," was one of the Sherman words. "The only answer to him (Roosevelt) is that it isn't true," was another one of the Shermanesque retorts. "Senator Sherman called up more 'niggers' in answering the Roosevelt-Hobbs question than he was elected in the last legislature by a Sullivan-Sherman combination."

Gives Inside Story.
"I am going to tell you the inside story of how the deadlock was broken, Senator Sherman said. "A vicious act of legislation and a breach of scandal over has been made at that legislature. No Sullivan man was elected senator. James Hamilton Lewis is an anti-Sullivan man who was elected senator by the aid of the anti-Sullivan Democrats not by the Sullivan members of the legislature. The deadlock on the election of a United States senator continued until March, 1913. On joint ballot there were twenty-seven Progressive members of the legislature. They held a conference or caucus, and twenty-three out of the twenty-seven agreed to support Frank H. Davis and myself for senators for the year and six-year terms, respectively. Moore supported him."

"I was the servile fool of a Sullivan member, why did twenty-three of the Progressive members of the legislature come to support me?"
"One has ever questioned the integrity of Frank H. Davis, who joined me for many weeks to break the deadlock by his election and joined through the aid of Progressive and Republican members of the legislature."

Tried to Elect Funk.
"I required every one of the twenty-seven Progressives and the seventy-five

Murdered Policeman and His Family.

Republicans to elect on joint ballot. If one vote was deflected it continued the deadlock. Four votes made an election impossible, unless by Democratic help. I tried sincerely to elect Mr. Funk for two-year term. He is sincerely tried to elect me with the help of his supporters for the six-year term. We both failed."

"After this failure it became evident that the deadlock was permanent, as far as the Republicans and Progressives were jointly concerned. The Republicans and certain Democrats then united and elected Senator Lewis for the long term and myself for the short term of less than two years."

Col. Roosevelt tomorrow, touring Williamson county and winding up the day with a night meeting at Marion. Wednesday he will rest and Thursday he will make Kewanee and Spring Valley, in Henry county. Friday he will tour Lee county, and Saturday Whitehall county. Sunday afternoon Senator Sherman will be the guest of honor at a church reunion at Rushville, in Schuyler county. Monday morning he will board the special train for his nine day dash over the state before entering Chicago and Cook county for the winter of the campaign.

EIGHT HELD AS DEALY SLAYERS

DYING MAN GIVES STORY

Detective Sgt. Frank Dealy was murdered by thugs early yesterday, being the second policeman to be shot on duty in the West Chicago avenue district in two days. The first, William Muldoon, shot on Saturday, is in a critical condition at St. Elizabeth's hospital.

For years Dealy traveled a beat with Christopher Hughes. Sunday at midnight the desk sergeant was ill and Hughes was called to temporary duty at the station. Dealy went out alone, with the understanding that Hughes was to meet him in a half hour. Hughes was preparing to comply with the arrangement when a telephone call announced that his partner was wounded.

Dealy Tells His Story.
Before Dealy lapsed into unconsciousness he gave this version of the affair. He had reached the corner of North Halsted street and West Grand avenue and proceeded to question two loiterers. They were seated on the curb. The men without a word drew magnum revolvers and fired four bullets into the detective's abdomen. Dealy fell. Men hurried from nearby saloons and restaurants and gave pursuit to two fleeing men, but the assailants made their escape by running among freight cars.

When the police ambulance arrived Dealy said:
"Send for my wife; send for a priest; I am dying."

Not Sure of Assailant.
Capt. Dealy has taken personal charge of the district. Eight suspects have been arrested. Charles Maratto of 1321 De Koven street, was first identified by the dying man as one of the assailants. Then Dealy changed his mind, saying he was not sure. Immediately thereafter he sank into unconsciousness.

Maratto was arrested with Joseph Dinio of 830 South Racine avenue. They had no weapons. Peter Dicunomas, 19 years old, of 225 West Monroe street, and Fred Alfred, 18 years old, who says he has no home, are among the prisoners. Dealy was 48 years old and the father of five children. The family resides at 830 North Lawrence avenue. Dealy had been on the force thirteen years. He participated in the arrest of the murderers of Frank Guevow, the truck farmer.

ROGER C. EXHORTS EGYPT

"Uphold Wilson's Hands During War," His Plea.

LOVE FEAST IS HELD.

Party Leaders All There at Organization Meeting.

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Roger C. Sullivan opened his campaign for United States senator in southern Illinois today with a Democratic love feast, the like of which Egypt has not had in a long time.

His first meeting was an organization affair at Carbondale for the whole Twenty-fifth Congressional district, to which the leaders were not only asked to come but did come. Among those in the meeting were all the county chairmen of the eight counties, about four-fifths of the precinct committeemen, and virtually all the local candidates of the various counties. Besides these official representatives each county sent a delegation of the much talked of rank and file, and Jackson county citizens turned out to the number of about 500.

There is to be but one issue in the campaign, the Democrats will make it the counsel of the candidate himself, and also of the other speakers at the gathering is followed.

The whole fight is to be made on the question of upholding President Wilson through the period of the European war. No time is to be lost in quarreling with either the Republican or the Bull Moose candidate.

Our issue in this campaign," Mr. Sullivan told the leaders, "is one of patriotism and not of partisanship. I am going to assume that in this time of trial all Democrats will vote to sustain and uphold the Democratic administration."

At the meeting here tonight Mr. Sullivan and the other speakers—A. B. Garrett of Springfield and L. C. Whitwell of East St. Louis—followed that line, entirely.

ECZEMA OVER HANDS, NECK AND ARMS

Could Not Sleep for Itching and Burning; Pimples Red and Watery. Skin and Scalp Dry and Scaly. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

1201 Douglas St., Omaha, Neb.—"My trouble began from a bad form of eczema all over my hands, neck and arms. I could get no sleep for the itching and burning. The small pimples looked red and watery and my skin was only because dry and itching. The physician treated me so that I would scratch until they bled. I could not get any sleep. In water and if I once tried it they burned so that I could not stand it. I had to keep my hands tied up and gloves on all the time for nearly two months. Sometimes I would scratch the skin off it irritated so that I could do no work at all. "I tried all kinds of remedies but nothing did any good. My trouble had lasted for three years, then I saw in the newspaper about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and got some. I washed my hands in warm water and Cuticura Soap, then put the Cuticura Ointment on and I was completely healed in five or six weeks. They have not troubled me since." (Signed) Joe W. MARTA OF THE LOWLANDS. Famous Players.

Marta, at 16..... Cheryl Gray
Marta, at 18..... North Kallish
Marta, at 20..... Mabel Glendon
Marta, at 22..... William A. Hays

YOU may think that you have walked conventionally up Michigan avenue, making mental records from shop windows of the latest developments in haughty and that you have drifted into the Studebaker and found your way, after stumbling over a projecting umbrella and stepping on a patient person's foot, to a seat somewhere in the dimness.

But you are entirely mistaken. Where you are is in a tiny, rock buttressed corner of Spain, among quaint houses, queer customs, and picturesque peasants, talked through the medium of the Famous Players' remarkable handling of the tragic story, "Marta of the Lowlands," written by Angel Guimera, and made memorable by Mme. Kallish's dramatic handling of the role of the heroine.

The star's film handling of the theme is likewise memorable in its simplicity, its straightforwardness and its poignant sorrow. She carries the audience away from its own problems and perplexities into absolute absorption in her experiences—even an audience with weary eyes.

The other members of the cast are personalities distinct and satisfying, each of potential interest equal to Marta's, the observer cannot help feeling.

The story, which is the old and common one of the pretty peasant girl's betrayal at the hands of the master of the estate, is given a slight new twist by his final care to marry her off to some one whom she comes to find is a true mate with whom she can go to the highlands and happiness after a life sorrow-drenched.

Her beauty lies in its lovely detail of setting, the revival of peasant customs, the stretches of wonderful country, the swift action and the springing emotions which have a peasant freedom about them that takes them far from the regions of artificial production.

The picture is artistic with details, an eye for an eye, only conscious of the effective whole.

Seasoned Kidney Beans.

THESE are practically no cost meat soups made which do not owe most of their agreeable flavor to the soup beans. Expert cooks use some mixture of vegetables or the herb bouquet not only for soup but for flavoring vegetables and all the preparations made with dried beans, peas, or lentils.

Some varieties of the kidney bean, in particular, need considerable softening and seasoning, just as soup meat flavor do, and if the materials to effect this are properly added will be an asset to the kitchen. The following recipe is a simple one, but it is a good one.

One pound of kidney beans, soaked overnight in water, drained, and then cooked in a large pot with a little oil, salt, and pepper. Add a bouquet of herbs (parsley, onion, carrot, etc.) and a little vinegar. Cook for about 2 hours, or until the beans are tender.

The French of France and French Cooks of America make a great deal of beans and cook them deliciously, but in addition to the usual recipe, they add a little of the most representative French cooking certainly do not.

One of our former great chefs combined a pint of dry red beans in cooking them with a medium onion with three cloves stuck in it, one carrot, an herb bouquet, one branch of celery, a few branches of parsley, and a little of the most representative French cooking certainly do not.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

The Garden We Plant.

BY LILLIAN RUSSELL.

(Copyright, 1914, by Lillian Russell.)

OUR lives are not unlike gardens, some are filled with sweet smelling flowers, while others are overgrown with weeds, thorns, and thistles. Some lives are garden beds and kindly words have fallen upon fertile soil, and from them have sprung all the things and memories that make life beautiful and worth while.

The people who are doing some good in the world look about them and are happy and content when they see the product of their deeds and words, and their garden blooms in all four seasons of the year. In winter they are just as gay and lovely as in midsummer or early spring.

There is no autumn, and no period when plants and flowers wither and when leaves fall. Beautiful days never come to people surrounded by such gardens. Every plant is happy. They do not have to be lifted at any season to be carried to the hothouse, but keep on growing and blooming year in and year out. And each little about suggests the planting of another, until the garden is large and strangers stop and admire the work of the gardener. This is the garden that is worth while. It is the garden warmed by sunny smiles and cultivated by the kindly heart.

But what an ugly garden is that which is filled with the weeds that spring from harsh and unkind words; acrimony, meanness, avarice, envy, and all the other seeds planted by some people in the soil where their roses should grow. Their garden also thrives in all seasons, but the weeds can find no pleasure in them, nor can they get rid of them. Instead of finding pleasure in their gardens, the thorns and thistles are constantly pinching their feet, to read them just how unfortunate they are.

Remember: Your life is your garden. Whether cooped up in a few rooms in a large city or far out in the open country, flowers may bloom all around you if you plant your seed properly.

MISS B. L.: I shall be glad to answer any questions and help you all I can if you will write and tell me what you wish to know. If you wish a personal reply send me a stamped addressed envelope. These letters are always answered, but if you wish a reply through the column it will take about two weeks on account of the number of letters received for publication. Address me in care of this paper.

To Cook Kidney Beans.—The beans may be soaked overnight, but they can be cooked without. Pick over, wash, soak, or not immediately on to cook with four or five times as much water as there are beans. Some cooks will need eight times as much because they are careless, and such cooks will need to use more than the ordinary allowance of water with cereals, etc. The dried beans are, too, the most water they need in cooking, and if soaked three hours in the morning it is a matter of course that beans will not be so much trouble. In the kitchen this will be too much trouble. So, if you are busy, soak and set over immediately, but do not soak them in the morning. If you are busy, soak and set over immediately, but do not soak them in the morning.

"For a circus two heads are better than one, but for marriage—it being no circus—there should be but one head."

All-Sufficient Folk.

THE most thoroughly satisfied person I know is one of those all-sufficient folk. So sufficient unto herself is this girl that she has acquired the habit of doing everything for herself. As a young man, who lived in the same house as she, of anything anything another has or does.

You ask her if she admires so-and-so or such and such a thing. Her reply always is, "O, no; do you?" And immediately she starts to talk of herself, telling you how well she does everything.

She is a pretty girl. Her features are good, her coloring is especially nice, and her figure is neat and trim. But her incapacity to see anything attractive about other people actually makes irritating every physical charm she possesses.

Marion Harland's Helping Hand

By Marion Harland

Meaning of Lorna.

PLEASE tell me the meaning of my name; also give your opinion of my grammar. I am only a common school graduate and have had one year at a business college. Family pecuniary conditions having prevented my further attending school. Could you suggest something that I could undertake as a wedding gift for my sister? I can do white embroidery better than any other. Please suggest something not too complicated, as I have not had much experience in doing the same, but think my sister will appreciate it more than if I had purchased it ready made.

I do not find your name to my knowledge of derivations and proper names. It probably was taken from "Lorna Doone" by your parents. It sounds as if it may have been corrupted from the name. Can these verses in such diction throw light upon the case? You write fairly well and clearly. Study the best models of English literature, copying page and chapter, to familiarize yourself with correct modes of expression and read carefully, getting the full meaning of words and sentences. Why not embroider a shirtwaist for your sister? Nothing could be more useful to her. And when the fashions of short waists go, the embroidery may be utilized in some other way.

"Story the Fiddle Told."

"Could you or any one in the H. C. give me or direct me to where I could obtain the reading called 'The Story the Fiddle Told'?"

They're Different Religions. Dear Miss Blake: I am 18 years of age and live in love with a young man, 21 and am sure my love is returned. My father thinks he is very nice, but object because he is not a Christian. As I have no parents and always mind my sister, should I leave my family and go with him? I don't know.

You are rather young to decide a question of such importance. Why don't you wait two or three years? By that time you may have entirely recovered from your love for the young man, or you may find that he is not the man whom you wish to marry at all. I disapprove of marriages which are based upon such a difference in religion.

Girl Told Untruth.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have been going with a young man. He was always ready to go any place with me until another girl went to him and told him something that was not true while I was out of town. He came to me and said he had been told that she did not tell him the truth. That was the morning that he went away. I don't know when he is coming back home. He sent me a post card, but I think he will be back home. I would thank you very much for your advice or if you would tell me how to get him to come back again."

Expressing Sympathy for Bereaved.

"In calling on a friend who has recently lost her husband, do I refer to his death as well as to the loss?"

Do not say "I am sorry to hear of the loss of your husband." It is a relief to the bereaved to hear of the loss of her husband. It is a relief to the bereaved to hear of the loss of her husband. It is a relief to the bereaved to hear of the loss of her husband.

Name for a Boy's Club.

"What would you suggest as a name for a club of boys, ages 12 and 13? The object of the club is to get together once a week and have a respectable time. Why not 'Order of Good Fiddlers' for your club? 'O. G. F.' would be a good name. I am sure it would be a success. I am sure it would be a success. I am sure it would be a success."

Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Famous American Spa

Americans do not generally realize that the noted American Spa—Excelsior Springs—possesses a variety of curative waters superior to those celebrated European Springs now inaccessible to Americans. Sufferers from rheumatism, liver and kidney diseases, ailments of the stomach and other disorders, are advised to try the waters of Excelsior Springs, which include the famous Regent, Siloam, Sulpho-Saline, Salt Sea and other Salt, Soda and Lithia Springs.

Hotels are numerous and are the equal of those of the larger cities. Of pastimes there is a variety—golf, tennis, horseback riding, motoring, billiards, bowling, trapping—give that enthusiasm that helps effect a cure.

Excelsior Springs is thirty miles northeast of Kansas City and is reached directly from Chicago only on the "Southwest Limited," via the

In offering this new fabric to our customers we feel that an urgent (and heretofore difficult) requirement—mixtures for Dress—has most satisfactorily supplied. This material, which is made from fine spun woolen yarn, comes in a variety of mixed effects in neat, indistinct checks and stripes. It is appropriate for many apparel purposes, but on account of its superior finish and draping qualities we recommend it for dresses and skirts for women and children. It is soft enough to hang in any lines that may be desired.

All wool, 50 inches wide, $1.50 yd. Second Floor. The charge for tailoring Skirts to measure from materials purchased in our Dress Goods Section is $5.00 and $6.00.
